This year's Conference is specifically structured for implantable, life-supporting, and life-sustaining devices and Class II medical devices facing imminent compliance dates, as well as hospitals moving towards incorporating UDI data into existing systems.

Attend the Conference to:

- Meet with the FDA UDI Team
- Learn how to utilize the Global UDI Database (GUDID) and how to harness the data
- Understand the requirements for your automatic identification systems
- Create your plan for implementation
- Gain the knowledge & establish resources needed to guide your organization

Teams from the following should attend:

- Health Care Industry Professionals

The UDI-enabling Technologies:

The UDI Regulation requires new/improved systems and processes to efficiently mark/tag equipment, scan device information at various points in its life cycle, and transmit that data to the GUDID and other software systems.

The UDI Conference allows you to interact directly with the FDA UDI team, investigate UDI technology in the exhibit hall, plan your migration path, and network with peers in the healthcare industry in one place, at one time.
